WHITE PAPER

Project description:

Beavis and Butt-Head are two fictional animated characters created by Mike Judge. They are best friends and high school students who are known for their goofy and socially awkward behavior. Beavis is known for his signature laugh, which sounds like "hee hee hee", and his obsession with fire. Butt-Head is usually the more level-headed of the two and is recognized for his catchphrase, "uh huh huh". Together, they enjoy watching music videos, playing video games, and eating junk food. Their irreverent humor often involves making inappropriate comments, engaging in dangerous activities, or causing mayhem wherever they go. Despite their questionable behavior, Beavis and Butt-Head have become cultural icons and have had a lasting impact on pop culture and comedy.
